

Abengoa, one of the top 200 global companies for outstanding climate change performance

- “The A List: The CDP Climate Performance Leadership Index 2014” recognizes the company’s climate change management.
- This latest recognition reflects Abengoa’s unwavering commitment to sustainable development and its work to combat climate change.

October 22, 2014. – Abengoa (MCE: ABG.B/P SM /NASDAQ: ABGB), the international company that applies innovative technology solutions for sustainability in the energy and environment sectors, has been selected for the CDP Climate Performance Leadership Index (CPLI) 2014 as one of the top 200 companies around the world with excellent climate change performance. This latest recognition comes from “The A List” report, a new index from CDP that recognizes the leading companies for climate change management.

This new index identifies listed companies that have demonstrated a dedicated strategy towards the environment. The CPLI is structured into several sectors such as consumer, energy, financials, health care, industrials, information technology, materials, telecommunication services and utilities. Of the 200 companies in the “A List”, 40 are classified under the “Industrials” sector, including Abengoa, which is the only Spanish company in this category. The report also refers to Abengoa as one of the companies that links its business to a strong anti-climate change stance, related to the solar plants it has constructed and operates.

This latest index has been supported by a total of 767 investment firms that represent US$92 trillion in assets and which prioritize investment in companies that are committed to tackling climate change. The complete report is available from the website: www.cdp.net.

This new recognition is an endorsement of Abengoa’s unwavering commitment to sustainable development and its work to combat climate change in the environment and energy sectors.
