

Abengoa accedes to the Luxembourg Declaration as a healthy company

Abengoa (MCE: ABG/P:SM), the international company that applies innovative technology solutions for sustainability in the infrastructures, energy and water sectors, has been awarded with a diploma in recognition of its accession to the Luxembourg Declaration from the National Institute of Workplace Safety and Hygiene (INSHT) and the European Network for Workplace Health Promotion (ENWHP).

This accession, dated 31/05/2017, is further evidence of Abengoa's commitment to integrating basic principles for promoting workplace health, in addition to good management in matters that relate to the health of its workforce.

All with the goal of continuing to set the best practices in developing approaches that are based on the certification for protecting occupational health and to orient its strategy in line with the principles of Workplace Health Promotion.

