Abengoa is awarded the electrical system renovation works of the Buenos Aires Underground

- The company will be responsible, on behalf of Alstom Argentina S.A., for assembly and installation works and/or necessary renovation works to be carried out on the Electrical Supply system on the B Line of the Buenos Aires Underground.

December 14, de 2017 – Abengoa (MCE: ABG/P:SM), the international company that applies innovative technology solutions for sustainability in the infrastructures, energy and water sectors, has been selected by Alstom, by means of their subsidiary in Argentina, to undertake the renovation works of the electrical system on the B Line of the Underground in the city of Buenos Aires, in order to meet the power requirements resulting from the new fleet planned for this line.

Abengoa will be responsible for providing resources, some materials and the necessary equipment for the renovation works to be carried out on the installations that are directly related to the traction power supply systems and catenary, the replacing of medium voltage cables, the laying of new cables and the replacing of breakers, among other works. These works are to be developed inside the tunnels and/or on the platforms.

This new contract strengthens the trust in Abengoa and reinforces the company's leading position in the electrical infrastructures market. Abengoa has been present in Argentina for 50 years and has undertaken major projects in all of the sectors in which it operates, although primarily in the area of power transmission and distribution.
