

Abengoa receives recognition from Transelec for repairing a transmission line

- Abengoa is undertaking the project to repair the Maitencillo-Casderones 1 and 2 line for the country's main electric transmission company.
- Transelec emphasized Abengoa's commitment to complete works successfully and safely.

Abengoa (MCE: ABG/P:SM), the international company that applies innovative technology solutions for sustainability in the infrastructure, energy and environment sectors, has received recognition from Transelec, Chile's largest electric transmission company, as a result of the work performed in the project to repair the Maitencillo-Casderones 1 and 2 line, in the country's central zone.

Transelec emphasized "the workers' contribution and commitment as a key element in completing works successfully and safely." General management also added that "they were proud of having a professional team of contractors and suppliers that understand the role Transelec plays as the country's main transmission company."

Abengoa performs all of its work in accordance with the highest standards of quality and safety. As a result of this performance, Abengoa receives acknowledgment from clients and suppliers alike, such as Transelec which is evidence of the trust that the international market has placed in Abengoa.